

About 30 years ago I joined a small group exploring psychic or ESP experiences. Within the group I learn the basics of hypnotism and used them to help other members experience their past lives and to channel guides. One guide came through the subject in trance as her native Indian guide singing an Indian chant as he prepared to speak to us. In the years after, I regressed friends back to their previous lives and also to the time on the "other side" of life in between lives. Some of these experiences involved talking to "ghosts", souls who chose to stay attached to the Earth dimension for various reasons. Recently I came into a closer relationship with my principal guides as they revealed themselves to me as visual images. Their thought/words were so much like my own that it helped to write the conversations rather than think them. This is the meaning of Automatic or as I prefer to call it, Spirit Writing. A few minutes each day leads to a personal relationship with these people/spirits who have watched over us with such unconditional love and support since birth. This book can help you to discover your own personal guides. No special or expensive equipment is needed, just a pen, a pad of paper and your open invitation to them to come to you. They will never take over your own will. Whatever decisions you choose to make, they will support you in them but the decisions must be yours. It's your life and these, the dearest friends you will ever have, only want the best for you.
