

Hip, Hip, Hip-PITY No!

Hip, Hip, Hip-PITY No! proposes that...the human psyche, the heart, and the spirit are resilient enough to overcome any misfortune, even the seemingly impossible because courage and a firm will are powerful forces within our nature; reflective discernment heightens an awareness that adversities grow us and armor us if we dare to override temporary disruptions; positivity and laughter lift and heal the spirit; wisdom is born from our struggles; who we are far outweighs what we can do; the only moment within our control is the present; fueled energies can be channeled into creative memories; Every injury has its own unique rate of healing.
